

Join our National District Leader Fellowship (NDLF)

E-mail Heather at hkawlr@selfnola.org to learn more information.

What

The National District Leader Fellowship provides rigorous professional development, executive coaching, and leadership development to systems-level leaders focused on supporting all students to achieve their fullest potential.

Goals

- One-week summer intensive
- Monthly virtual learning experience
- Monthly Leadership Coaching
- Virtual Professional Learning Communities with other systems leaders
- School Visits to exemplar programs
- On-Site full day school review

Participant Experience

Who is the National District Leader Fellowship for?

The fellowship is designed for leaders who work at the network, district, or state level.

Why join the fellowship?

The National District Leader Fellowship was created to support systems-level leaders who are working to ensure all students are celebrated, treated with dignity and their strengths are leveraged to close and eliminate the performance gap for diverse learners in the communities they serve.

How many leaders are in each cohort?

Each cohort will consist of no more than 12 systems-level leaders. This allows us to tailor our programming to meet the unique needs of our leaders.

Follow Up

Do you provide continuing education credit hours?

Currently, SELF does not provide continuing education credit hours for this cohort.

Do you provide certificates of completion?

Yes, each leader will receive a certificate of completion.

How are training sessions delivered?

The Summer Experience, school reviews, and National School Visits are delivered in person. Training sessions and professional learning communities will be conducted over Zoom.

Are there any costs associated with this fellowship?

To participate in this year-long fellowship, the cost is $12,000.

How do I become a Fellow?

Applications are open until March 30, 2023

When does the program run?

July 2023 - June 2024

How can leaders extend the learning, after the training is over?

Alumni may request coaching from a SELF staff member following their experience. These contracts are available for a fee.

“

My time at SELF pushed me to completely rethink my approach to school systems. Not only did my diverse learners improve in their academics, all of my students benefited.”

—SELF Alum

100%

of Leader Fellows agree the content was relevant and useful.