What

An intensive two-year fellowship for school-based leaders that are eager to grow their leadership and support their school community to deliver outstanding, equitable special education programming

Goals

- One-week summer intensive
- Monthly virtual learning experience
- Monthly Leadership Coaching
- Virtual Professional Learning Communities with other systems leaders
- School Visits to exemplar programs
- On-Site full day school review

Participant Experience

Who is the National Leader Fellowship for?

Participants are special education coordinators, response to intervention (RTI) or multi-tier support system (MTSS) coordinators, and aspiring leaders.

Why join the National Leadership?

This intensive two-year program includes specialized training, coaching, professional learning communities, peer reviews and visits to exemplary special education programs. It is designed to improve the technical and leadership skills of leaders, addressing teacher attrition and increasing student achievement.

Who facilitates the training?

Our experienced programming team: Every member was a successful leader in education, whether a teacher, coordinator, school leader, and/or district staff member.

“

My time at SELF pushed me to completely rethink my approach to school systems. Not only did my diverse learners improve in their academics, all of my students benefited.”
